Thursday afternoon students at Pinecrest High School got an up close look at the effects that operating a vehicle under the influence or while not paying attention can have.

Hosted by the Pinecrest chapter of SADD-SAVE (Students Against Destructive Decisions – Students Against Violence Everywhere) and the Pinecrest PTA, the Arrive Alive event included two wrecked vehicles that featured senior students that had been made up to appear as if they had been in an auto accident.

Students were also able to visit table's setup by the PTA, the Southern Pines Police Department, the NC State Highway Patrol and the Moore County Sheriff's Department with a variety of safe driving information.

A number of emergency vehicles were on display giving students the chance to get an up close view of an EMS ambulance, fire truck, heavy rescue vehicle, police cars, and even a hearse and casket that was setup to help drive the point home to students of how final the results of an accident can be.

The event was held from 12:00 noon until 2:00 PM so that students could visit the demonstration area during their lunch periods.

Participating in today's Arrive Alive event were PHS SADD-SAVE, PHS PTA, Drug Free Moore County, Moore County School Resource Officers, Southern Pines Fire & Rescue, Aberdeen Fire & Rescue, Moore County EMS, Southern Pines Police Department, Moore County Sheriff's Department, NC State Highway Patrol, and Boles Funeral Home. The vehicles were provided by Rockwell Towing in Aberdeen.
